Productivity, however, is not the only factor in determining a company's success. A company's ability to attract and retain talent is also a key factor. In the past, companies have often focused on attracting talent through high salaries and bonuses. However, in the future, companies will need to focus on creating a positive work environment and providing opportunities for growth and development. This will be especially important for companies that are looking to attract and retain top talent in a competitive market.
